

Task: Using the letter on Obento WB p233 as a model, write a cover letter for a job as ONE of the following:

1. Waiter at a local Japanese restaurant where most staff are Japanese.
2. Tour guide at a local travel company specialising in tours for Japanese tourists.
3. Receptionist at an international study centre with many Japanese students.

You must include:

- your work experience
- your abilities / your language skills
- your hobbies/interests
- things you want to do in the job
- future aspirations
- Support your points by giving reasons
- Use a formal letter format with opening and closing greetings

Well Above

Few errors, excellent writing.
Well done!

Grammar to be used:

- することが すき・とくい・にがて I like doing... / I am good at doing... / I am not good with...
- Noun がすきです。 I like (noun)
- 将来 A になりたいです。 In the future, I want to become A.
- B で はたらきたいです。 I want to work at B.
- ~たことがあります。 I have done...
- A から B ---- A is the case, so B (E.g. Because I like sport, in the future I want to become a personal trainer OR My hobby is studying languages, so I want to be a tour guide speaking in other languages OR I love Japanese food and language, so I want to work at a Japanese restaurant)

Assessment criteria

You must have...

1. Written a cover letter for your selected position outlining your experience, your skills, aspirations and justified your points as appropriate. ✓
2. Used opening and closing expressions ✓
3. Used grammar, kanji and vocabulary accurately and appropriately for the task ✓
4. Followed letter layout and genkouyoushi rules ✓
5. Demonstrated an understanding of Japanese culture, for example by using suitably polite language for the task, speaking modestly about oneself and so on. ✓

Above the standard: Includes grammar, vocabulary and kanji that has not been studied in this unit or has been provided by the teacher on request. Demonstrates a very good level of accuracy and some creativity appropriate to the task and context.

Well Above the Standard: Includes grammar, vocabulary and kanji that has not been studied in this unit or has been provided by the teacher on request. Demonstrates a high level of accuracy and creativity appropriate to the task and context.

working towards the standard
Joey, your writing was in your own words, which was excellent. However, there was a problem of relevance, accuracy and presentation. It looks rushed and your mind was only half on the task.

Grammar to be used:

- することが すき・とくい・にがて I like doing... / I am good at doing... / I am not good with...
- Noun がすきです。 I like (noun)
- 将来 A になりたいです。 In the future, I want to become A.
- B で はたらきたいです。 I want to work at B.
- ~たことがあります。 I have done...
- A から B ---- A is the case, so B (E.g. Because I like sport, in the future I want to become a personal trainer OR My hobby is studying languages, so I want to be a tour guide speaking in other languages OR I love Japanese food and language, so I want to work at a Japanese restaurant)

Charlie, a good effort.
Please always proof read your work before you submit it.
Also, if you write a plan, you will avoid things such as sashimi.
